THE following humble Addreſs of the French Proteſtant Refugees, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Reverend Mr. Philip Meſnard, accompanied by moſt of the Clergy and ſeveral Gentlemen of their Body, introduced by the Marqueſs de Miremont. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly, and they all had the Honour to kiſs His Majeſty's Hand.

AU ROI,

SIRE,

LES François Proteſtants Refugiez vos Sujets ſe jettent aux Pieds de V. M. pour Lui preſenter leurs trés humbles Homages, et les Aſſurances de leur Zéle et de leur inviolable Fidelité. Comme ils ont vivement ſenti, avec tout le Royaume, le Coup dont la Main de Dieu l'a frappé, en lui ôtant le défunt Roi de glorieuſe et d'immortelle Memoire, ils partagent auſſi avec tout le Royaume la Joye et le Bonheur de voir V. M. ſur le Trône ; et ils joignent leurs Acclamations à celles de cette généreuſe Nation, qui les a ſi charitablement recueillis. La Conſolation qu'ils y ont trouvé dans leur Diſperſion et dans leurs Malheurs, ne pourra que s'augmenter ſous l'heureux Regne de V. M. C'eſt ce que nous devons attendre de la Bonté, de la Clemence, de la Piété de V. M. et de toutes ſes Vertus Heroïques qui vont faire la Felicité de vos Peuples. Puiſſiez vous, Sire, pendant un long Cours d'Années regner heureuſement ſur nous, couronné de Gloire, et comblé de toutes les Benedictions de la Terre et du Ciel. Ce ſont nos voeux les plus ardents.

They afterwards waited on the Queen, and the Reverend Mr. Philip Meſnard made the following Speech. After which they were admitted to kiſs Her Majeſty's Hand.

A La Reine,

Madame,

LES François Proteſtants Refugiez, aprés avoir rendu leurs Homages au Roi vôtre auguſte Epoux, demandent trés humblement à V. M. la Permiſſion de s'acquitter du même Devoir envers Elle. Nous avons été ſenſiblement touchez de la Mort du feu Roi de glorieuſe Mémoire. Mais Dieu nous conſole par Sa Bonté. Nous voyons en vos Majeſtez ſ'accomplir heureuſement la Promeſſe que Dieu a fait à ſon Egliſe, Que les Rois ſeroient ſes Nourriciers, et les Reines leurs Epouſes ſes Nourrices. Le Trône rempli par un Roi, vrai Defenſeur de la Foi, et par une Reine, qui de ſa prémiére Jeuneſſe a choiſi la bonne Part. Toute la Terre admire les Vertus Civiles et Royales qui ornent V. M. et nous attendons tout de ſes Vertus Chrêtiennes, de ſa Bonté, de ſa Charité, de ſon Attachement à la véritable Religion, de ſa Compaſſion pour ceux qui ſouffrent pour la Juſtice. Daignez, Grand Reine, nous en faire ſentir toûjours ces Effets. Nous ne ceſſerons point de preſenter à Dieu nos Priéres les plus ferventes, pour Lui demander qu'il conſerve les ſacrées Perſonnes de V. M. qu'il les rempliſſe de ſes Benedictions et de ſes Graces, qu'il affermiſſe ces Graces et ces Benedictions ſur les Princes et les Princeſſes qu'il vous a donné en ſon Amour ; et que l'auguſte Sang de vos Majeſtez faſſe juſques à la Fin des Siécles le Bonheur de ces Royaumes, et l'Appui de la Religion.

The following humble Addreſs of the Principal and Profeſſors of the Univerſity of King James VIth. of Bleſſed Memory at Edinburgh, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Mr. Mac Laurin, Profeſſor of Mathematicks in that Univerſity, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Paget Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly ; and he had the Honour to kiſs His Majeſty's Hand.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to approach your Royal Throne, to condole with your Majeſty upon the Death of our late gracious Sovereign your Royal Father, and with Hearts full of Loyalty and Affection to congratulate your peaceable and happy Acceſſion to the Throne.

The great Security which the Settlement of the Succeſſion to the Crown of theſe Kingdoms in your Majeſty's Royal Family, brought to the Proteſtant Religion, upon which the flouriſhing of Learning ſo much depends, has always filled our Hearts with Joy, and with a grateful Remembrance of King William, our De-

[Price Three Pence.]

Deliverer from Popery and Slavery; and the Experience we have had of the happy Effects of that Settlement since His late Majesty's Accession to the Throne, in the Favours and Blessings which we enjoyed under his most wise and gracious Administration, gives us a most sensible Grief for the Loss of so excellent a Sovereign, which nothing could have repaired but your Majesty's happy Succession, whose Royal Virtues make you every Way fit to fill the Place of so great a Father.

The Constancy and Zeal of your Majesty, and your Royal Consort our most gracious Queen, for the Protestant Religion; that noble Valour with which you very early asserted and defended the Liberties of Europe; the great Wisdom, which so penetrating a Mind must have acquired from so much Knowledge and Experience of publick Affairs, with your Majesty's natural Vigour and Firmness of Spirit, leave us no Room to doubt, that by the Divine Blessing, your Government shall fully defeat all the Designs of your Enemies, and render your Subjects truly happy in the Enjoyment of their Religion, Laws and Liberties, which your Majesty has been graciously pleased to declare that you will always carefully preserve: And your many eminent Royal Virtues assure us, that the Societies of Learning shall ever have your gracious Protection and Encouragement.

We have always made it our Business to support the Settlement of the Succession in your Majesty's Family, in Opposition to a Popish Pretender, and to promote the Principles of Loyalty to your Royal Father, according to the Duty of our several Offices; and we shall always reckon ourselves bound by the strongest Ties, to be faithful and loyal Subjects to your Majesty, and with Pleasure to instruct the Youth, whose Education is committed to our Care, in the Principles of Loyalty and good Affection to your Majesty's Person and Government, and to make them sensible of the great Happiness they enjoy in being the Subjects of so wise and gracious King.

That God may Prosper your Majesty in all your Counsels and Undertakings for the publick Good, and disappoint the Designs of your Enemies: That he may long preserve you to reign a happy Sovereign over a loving, obedient and loyal People: That He may bless our most gracious Queen, his Royal Highness the Prince, and all your Royal Issue; and that these Realms may be ever happy in a Sovereign of your Majesty's Family to defend their Religion, Laws and Liberties, is the sincere and hearty Prayer of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most humble and most obedient Subjects and Servants.

Signed in our Name, and by our Appointment, by Will. Wishart, Principal.

Edinburgh, July 4, 1727.

The following humble Address of the Principal, Dean of Faculty and Professors of the University of Glasgow, in an University-Meeting assembled the 10th of July, 1727, has been presented to His Majesty by his Grace the Duke of Montrose. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to approach your Majesty with the Expressions of our just and deep Concern for the Death of our late Gracious Sovereign King George the First, of blessed Memory; a Prince, who by his seasonable Accession to the Throne, dispell'd our just Fears of the Return of Popery and Slavery, who through the whole Course of his Reign was made the signal Instrument of Divine Providence to maintain the valuable Rights and Interests of his People against all Attempts at home or abroad, and by the happy Success of his wise Counsels, gave us the agreeable Prospect of escaping a bloody War with which all Europe was threatened.

So great and sudden a Stroke had brought the State of these Nations under the most gloomy and frightful Aspect, had not our Loss been happily supplied by your Majesty's Succession to the Throne of your Royal Father, whereby, under God, we see ourselves secured in the Possession of our Rights and Privileges; a Blessing owing to the Entail of the Crown in the Protestant Line, and one of the happy Effects of the Glorious Revolution.

Your Majesty's early and seasonable Assurances to maintain our Church as by Law established, and gracious Declaration in Favours of our Civil Liberties, and Resolution to prosecute the Alliances made by the late King, joyn'd with the great and Royal Indowments in which you so eminently excel, fill our Hearts with the utmost Joy and Satisfaction, and afford us a sure and agreeable Prospect of Peace and Prosperity under your auspicious Reign.

Permit us therefore, Great Sir, to assure your Majesty, that we are most inviolably attach'd to your sacred Person and Government, both which we will to the utmost of our Power stand by and defend against the Pretender and all Enemies whatsoever, and that we will endeavour by our Example and Instruction to instill and cultivate in all under our Care, the true and genuine Principles of Obedience and Loyalty.

That Almighty God, by whom Kings reign, may pour down upon your Majesty, your Royal Consort the Queen, and all your Royal Issue, the greatest and best Blessings; that you may long sway the Scepter of these Kingdoms over a willing and obedient People; and after a long and happy Reign here, exchange an earthly for a more lasting and Heavenly Crown, is, and shall be the Prayer of, May it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most dutiful, most obedient, and most loyal Subjects.

The

The following humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty of the moſt ancient and loyal City of Wincheſter has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Lord William Powlett, and George Rodney Bridges, Eſq; their Repreſentatives in Parliament, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Bolton Lord Lieutenant of the County of Southampton, and High Steward of Wincheſter. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE humbly beg Leave to condole with your Majeſty for the Loſs of your Royal Father our late moſt gracious Sovereign, and congratulate your Majeſty on your peaceable and happy Acceſſion to the Throne of theſe Kingdoms.

When we contemplate the many Princely Virtues with which your Majeſty adorns the Crown of Great Britain, we cannot but promiſe ourſelves all the Bleſſings and Happineſs that a Nation can deſire or enjoy under a wiſe, valiant, and moſt gracious King, happy in a moſt religious and vertuous Queen, and a numerous Royal Iſſue; this Expectation raiſes in our Hearts the warmeſt Returns of Duty, Loyalty and Affection, to your Majeſty's Perſon and Government.

May your Majeſty's Reign be long and glorious; may your Throne be eſtabliſhed in the Hearts and Affections of your Subjects; and may your Majeſty have the Pleaſure of finiſhing that great Work (which was ſo happily begun by your Royal Father) of ſettling the Peace and Liberties of Europe on a ſure and laſting Foundation.

In Teſtimony whereof we have hereunto affixed our Common Seal, at a Common-Council held in the Guildhall of our City the 3d Day of July, in the Year of our Lord 1727.

The following humble Addreſs of the Royal Burrows of Scotland, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Iſla, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord William Manners Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt faithful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to approach your ſacred Preſence, with humble Expreſſions of our Grief and Affliction for the Death of our late moſt gracious Sovereign, and of our great Joy for your Majeſty's peaceable and happy Acceſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors.

Happy under the gentle Reign of your Royal Father, and among the lateſt Acts of his Government, having received a freſh Proof of his paternal Care of our Trade, Manufactures and Fiſheries, nothing leſs was capable to repair our Loſs and revive our Minds upon the Deceaſe of that Excellent Prince, than the Sovereign Power in the Hands of your Majeſty, beloved by your People, and who eſteems it the ſureſt Empire to reign in their Hearts.

The great Courage by which your Majeſty was early diſtinguiſhed in the Defence of the Proteſtant Religion and Liberties of Europe, and the ample Aſſurances given your People of your Majeſty's tender Care inviolably to preſerve the Conſtitution of theſe Kingdoms, and to ſecure to all your Subjects the full Enjoyment of all their Rights, Sacred and Civil, muſt ſurely excite the higheſt Love and Affection to your ſacred Perſon, and prove a Support and Security to your Crown and Government, never to be ſhaken.

Permit us, in a particular Manner, to mention the ſtrong Security we received early upon your Majeſty's Acceſſion to the Crown, for the Support and Preſervation of the Rights and Privileges of the Church of Scotland, by Law eſtabliſhed, on which we intirely rely.

We, for our Part, with Hearts full of Duty, Love and Affection to your Majeſty, beg Leave to tender unfeigned Aſſurances, that we will, upon all Occaſions, with our Lives and Fortunes, maintain and ſupport your Majeſty's undoubted Right and Title to the Imperial Crown of theſe Realms, againſt all Attempts whatſoever.

May your Majeſty long reign the moſt beloved and glorious Prince that ever filled the Britiſh Throne, ever ſucceſsful in your generous Endeavours to make your People Happy and Great; may your Majeſty be long bleſſed in your Royal Conſort; and may your Royal Family inherit your noble Sentiments, princely Virtues, and the Crown of Great Britain to lateſt Poſterity. Theſe are the ſincere and conſtant Wiſhes of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

Your Majeſty's moſt loyal, moſt dutiful, and moſt obedient Subjects and Servants.

The General Convention of your Royal Burrows of Scotland.

Signed in their Preſence, and by their Appointment, by

J. Drummond, Præſes.

Edinburgh, July 6, 1717.

The following humble Addreſs of the Bailiffs, Recorder, Principal Burgeſſes and Commonalty of the Ancient Borough of Eye, in the County of Suffolk, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Lord Cornwallis, accompanied by the two Bailiffs, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Paget Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly; and they had the Honour to kiſs His Majeſty's Hand.

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave, amongſt the moſt

affec-

Affectionate and moſt Zealous of thoſe who on this Occaſion approach your Royal Perſon, to offer our tribute of Duty and Allegiance, and humbly to congratulate your Majeſty upon your happy Acceſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors, to which you are called by an undoubted Right, to which you are attended by the univerſal Acclamations of a joyful People.

The Loſs of our late Sovereign, of ever glorious Memory, ſtruck us with the deepeſt Impreſſion of Sorrow that the Minds of grateful and dutiful Subjects could be affected with upon ſo ſurprizing an Event; a Loſs which would have ſeemed inſupportable, had not Providence beſtowed upon us in the Perſon of your Majeſty, a Succeſſor not only to the Crown, but likewiſe to all the Vertues of your Royal Father.

When we conſider your Majeſty's ſteady Affection to the Ancient Conſtitution of this Kingdom; when we reflect on your early expoſing your Perſon to the greateſt Dangers in the Cauſe of Religion and Liberty, and on what of all earthly Things is the utmoſt be relied upon, your Majeſty's late gracious Declaration, ſo ſeaſonable a Comfort to the whole Nation, our Hearts are filled with unſpeakable Joy at the opening a Proſpect of ſo great Bleſſings to us and our Poſterity: Such Bleſſings juſtly claim the ſtrongeſt Proofs that can be given, even at the Hazard of our Lives and Fortunes, of our Affection to your Majeſty's Perſon and Government.

Words are inſufficient to expreſs our real Sentiments of Loyalty, our Actions will beſt demonſtrate how firmly we are reſolved on our Part to contribute to the utmoſt of our Power to make your Reign eaſy, as we are perſwaded it will be glorious; there remains nothing at preſent for us, but to wiſh and pray that it may have a very, very long Duration.

Given under our common Seal, the 8th Day of July, in the Firſt Year of your Majeſty's Reign, Anno Dom. 1727.

The following humble Addreſs of the Bailiff, Aldermen, Capital Burgeſſes, and Commonalty of the Borough of Maldon, in the County of Eſſex, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Honourable Mr. Baron Comyns their Recorder, accompanied by Thomas Bramſton, Eſq; their High Steward, Thomas Bramſton and Henry Parſons, Eſqrs. their Repreſentatives in Parliament, and other Members of the ſaid Corporation, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Herbert Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly, and they all had the Honour to kiſs His Majeſty's Hand.

PErmit us, moſt gracious Sovereign, upon your happy Acceſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors, to tender to your ſacred Majeſty the Homage which is due from every Subject, and which none can pay with Hearts more faithful, more firmly attached to your illuſtrious Houſe, or more full of Affection and Duty to your Royal Perſon.

The great Conſternation and Concern we were under for our own and the Nation's Loſs in the Death of our late gracious Monarch, were leſſened by your Majeſty's ſpeedy Reſolution to take the Reins of the Government into your Hands, and give early Aſſurances of your tender and affectionate Care for the Good and Welfare of your People.

We diſcern with abundant Pleaſure and Satisfaction the happy Omens of a great and flouriſhing Reign: The Experience we have already had of your prudent Conduct and Wiſdom, the Inſtances we have frequently ſeen of your Regard for the Good and Liberties of the Subject, the convincing Proofs given by Yourſelf and Royal Conſort of a ſtrict Adherence to the Proteſtant Religion, diffuſe over all your Kingdoms a juſt Expectation of all the Happineſs and Proſperity which uſually flow in upon a Nation from the Maintenance and Enjoyment of their Religious and Civil Rights.

Nothing ſeems wanting to our Felicity, but an equal Care and Endeavour in your People to make ſuitable Returns of Obedience, Affection and Duty for the Bleſſings they receive under your auſpicious Reign, whereby your Majeſty may be the better enabled to provide for the Eſtabliſhment of Peace and the Advantages of Commerce among your Subjects at Home, and of an equal Balance of Power among your Neighbours abroad; and after a long and glorious Reign, to tranſmit thoſe Bleſſings down to late Poſterity.

Given under the common Seal of the ſaid Borough the firſt Day of July, in the Firſt Year of your Majeſty's Reign.

The following humble Addreſs of the Biſhop, Dean and Chapter, and Clergy of the Church and Dioceſe of Lincoln, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Reverend the Lord Biſhop of that Dioceſe, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Paget Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

ALTHO' the Felicity of your Royal Father was in all Reſpects ſo compleat that it ſeem'd incapable of Addition by any other Method than that which the Divine Wiſdom hath taken of advancing him from an earthly to an heavenly Crown, yet this Diſpenſation, by which only his Glory could be increas'd, muſt have left us his faithful Subjects here inconſolate, had not the ſame Divine Providence graciouſly ſupply'd the Loſs of ſo great a Prince, by preſenting to us, in the Perſon of your ſacred Majeſty, an Heir of his Royal Virtues, as well as of his Realms.

It is therefore with all due Submiſſion and Thankfulneſs to the wiſe Diſpoſer of all things, that

Your conſtant continuing amongſt us, from your firſt happy Arrival in Great Britain, to acquaint yourſelf with a People you were deſign'd to rule over: The perfect Knowledge and Love your Majeſty had of the Conſtitution, both Religious and Civil, of theſe Kingdoms; and of their Intereſts, Domeſtick and Foreign: Your Majeſty's prudent and wiſe Conduct upon nice and important Occaſions; your known and experienced Abilities for Government, and other your Princely Virtues, had ſo delighted the People, that when they heard of your Majeſty's Acceſſion to the Crown, they were not ſatisfied with a bare Acquieſcence in your juſt Right and Title, but expreſſed ſo hearty and univerſal Joy, as leaves no Room to doubt, but your Majeſty will reign in the Hearts and Affections of your Subjects.

We your Majeſty's good Subjects of this City, do moſt humbly congratulate you on this happy Beginning of your Reign: And in Return to thoſe gracious Aſſurances which your Majeſty has been pleaſed to give your People, that you will preſerve and ſecure to them their Religion, Liberty, and Property; we will, to our Utmoſt, contribute in our Stations, to make your Government not only eaſy, but happy; and we wiſh it may be long.

Your Majeſty and your Royal Conſort did our City the Honour to make it the Place of your firſt Meeting in England: We are thereby more particularly put in Mind to wiſh, as we moſt heartily do, both your Majeſties a long Continuance of the Bleſſings of Providence together: And pray, that there may never be wanting a Proteſtant Prince, deſcended from your Majeſties (inſtructed by your Majeſty's Precepts and Examples) to love, protect, and defend theſe Kingdoms.

The following humble Addreſs of the Provoſt, Baillies, and Town-Council of the Burgh of Stirling, repreſenting the whole Community thereof, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Henry Cuninghame, Eſq; their Repreſentative in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Herbert Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

THE good and ſpecial Providence of Almighty God, which has ſo remarkably taken Care of Britain, did moſt ſeaſonably bring your Majeſty's Royal Family to the Throne of your Anceſtors, to confirm and carry further the great Things done for us by the happy Revolution under the Conduct of King William, of immortal Memory.

To our great Joy, we find Providence ſtill propitious to us, when we ſee your Majeſty fill the Throne on the Death of your Royal Father, our late gracious Sovereign: A Death which nothing but your Majeſty's happy Succeſſion could make up the Loſs we thereby ſuſtained.

Our firm and inviolable Attachment to the Church of Scotland by Law eſtabliſhed, to our happy Civil Conſtitution, which ſecures our Liberties and Properties beyond theſe of any other People, fixes unalterably our Duty and Zeal for your Majeſty's Sacred Perſon, Family, and Government; which God has raiſed up to be His great and glorious Inſtrument for the Preſervation of our Religion, and of all our Earthly Enjoyments: Nor is the neceſſary and happy Connexion betwixt theſe and your Majeſty's Government more evident, than is there abſolute Inconſiſtency with all the Intereſts of the abjured Popiſh Pretender: In Oppoſition to whom, and all your other Enemies, we humbly beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that we will unalterably adhere to your Cauſe, which is indeed the Cauſe of God and of our Country.

May your Majeſty's Reign over us be long and proſperous: May all the Bleſſings of God be heaped upon you and on your Royal Conſort our gracious Queen; on his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, and all your Royal Progeny: And may one of your Royal Proteſtant Family wear the Crown of Britain as long as the Earth endures, and render our Poſterity as happy as we are under your Majeſty. So pray with Cordial Affection and Truth,

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

Your Majeſty's moſt faithful, moſt dutiful, and moſt loyal humble Subjects and Servants.

Signed at Stirling this 30th Day of June, 1727.

An humble Addreſs of the Bailiff, Burgeſſes and Inhabitants of the Ancient Borough of Chippenham, in the County of Wilts, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable Sir John Eyles, Bart. lable Loyalty and Allegiance would be too ſmall a Return for that his moſt gracious Declaration, could we think at the ſame Time that we could have any thing too dear for him?

'Tis with theſe Sentiments that we durſt preſume (Great Sir) to draw near your Sacred Perſon; and if, among that vaſt Crowd of Subjects that ſtrive who ſhall be firſt with their Tender of Zeal and Affection for your Majeſty's Perſon and Government, your Majeſty would vouchſafe to caſt an Eye upon that of your moſt faithful Subjects the Inhabitants of your Majeſty's Iſland of Guernſey, we hope 'twill be ſo far from appearing deſpicable, becauſe 'tis the Widow's Mite, that that alone will recommend it to your Majeſty.

But when we conſider that 'tis the Tender of that ſame Zeal and Affection for your Majeſty's Perſon and Government, as hath been able to ſtand all Tryals, and diſtinguiſh itſelf on all Occaſions for its unſhaken Steadineſs for your Sacred Perſon and Royal Houſe, we cannot make the leaſt Doubt but that it will be acceptable to your Majeſty, as coming from thoſe, who, tho' they make not the moſt conſiderable Figure among your Subjects, yet come behind none of them in their Loyalty and Allegiance.

May the Great God, after having made you the glorious Inſtrument of the Happineſs of Mankind, and made you, with your Royal Conſort, reign long, and that very long, and happily over a willing and obedient People; make you the Darling of the preſent, and Wonder of all future Generations, till being ſatiated with Days, you may at laſt leave your Imperial Crown for an Heavenly one, to the bright Heir of your Virtues, thence to continue in your Royal Houſe till Time ſhall be no more; are the moſt fervent and hearty Prayers of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

Your Majeſty's moſt loyal, moſt dutiful, and moſt obedient Subjects.

Guernſey, June 27, 1727.

The following humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgeſſes, Officers of the Cuſtoms and Exciſe, and other Principal Inhabitants of and belonging to the Town and Port of Falmouth, in the County of Cornwall, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Robert Corker, Eſq; one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord William Manners Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgeſſes, Officers of the Cuſtoms and Exciſe, and other Principal Inhabitants of and belonging to the Town and Port of Falmouth, in the County of Cornwall, humbly beg Leave to condole with your Majeſty on the Death of your late Royal Father, under whoſe auſpicious Reign; we, together with the reſt of his Subjects, enjoyed ſo many Bleſſings and Privileges, and whoſe Loſs would have been very grievous to us, were it not for your Majeſty's Acceſſion to the Throne, and the many illuſtrious Qualities and Virtues which ſhine ſo eminently bright in your Majeſty's Royal Perſon.

We therefore in the humbleſt manner Congratulate your Majeſty on this Occaſion, being fully ſatisfied we ſhall enjoy our Religion, Laws, Liberties, and Properties, as eſtabliſh'd by Law in Church and State, in as full and ample Manner as your Majeſty hath moſt graciouſly declared from the Throne: And that from the great Endowments of your Royal Conſort and hopeful Iſſue, the ſame will be continued to us of this Church and Nation, and our Poſterities till Time ſhall be no more: And as there is ſuch a lively Proſpect of your Subjects future Welfare and Happineſs from your Majeſty's abundant Goodneſs and Concern for your People; we aſſure your Majeſty with Hearts truly Loyal, that we will on all Occaſions, with our Lives and Fortunes, ſupport, maintain and defend your Majeſty's Right and Title to the Crown of theſe Realms, and all other your Majeſty's Dominions, againſt all Attempts whatſoever.

The following humble Addreſs of the Bailiff and Burgeſſes of the moſt ancient Borough of Aldborough, in the County of York, has been preſented to His Majeſty by William Jeſſop and Charles Stanhope, Eſqrs; their Repreſentatives in Parliament, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle one of His Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bailiff and Burgeſſes of your moſt ancient Borough of Aldborough, in the County of York, humbly beg Leave to expreſs our great Grief for the Loſs of your Majeſty's Royal Father our late moſt gracious Sovereign, which would have been inſupportable, had not your Majeſty's peaceable and happy Acceſſion to the Throne revived our Spirits, and filled us with the greateſt Joy.

We are well aſſured, from the long Experience we have had of thoſe great and Princely Virtues that adorn your Majeſty's Royal Perſon, from your early and vigorous Appearance in Arms for the Defence of the Liberties of Europe, from the Affection your Majeſty hath always ſhewn to the People of this Nation, and from the great Concern you expreſs for the Preſervation of all their religious and civil Rights, that your Majeſty's tender Care of your People, and wiſe Adminiſtration, will not only make all your Subjects entirely happy, but alſo raiſe the Grandeur of this Nation to the higheſt Pitch. And we humbly beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that we ſhall be always
